

09/575,480

In the Claims:

Please amend the claims as follows:

1. (Previously Amended) A method for treating restenosis comprising an intravascular infusion or delivery by release from a surface of a stent of a combination of at least two agents, including an anti-proliferative agent for inhibiting smooth muscle cell growth comprising rapamycin or an analogue thereof and an anti-inflammatory agent for inhibiting smooth muscle growth, in therapeutic dosage amounts.